

Kerala mural painting -Kerala

V1 — Authentic Style

Universal Hard Prompt

Create the image in the authentic visual logic of Kerala mural painting, a sacred mural tradition of Kerala built on temple and palace walls, governed by codified iconographic rules, stylised divine figure construction, outline-first composition, and the Pancha Varna five-color system: ochre yellow, red, green, white, and black.

Do not treat this as generic Indian religious painting, decorative wall art, mythological poster art, South Indian mural styling, or realism painted on a wall. Rebuild the entire image as a true Kerala mural world.

The image must read first as:

- sacred wall-bound mural painting
- codified divine and mythological figure construction
- strict outline-led image building
- Pancha Varna color law
- temple / palace mural identity
- epic and puranic narrative order
- sacred presence completed through eye logic

WHOLE-FRAME RULE:

Every visible element must belong to the same Kerala mural system.

- all faces must become codified Kerala-mural faces, not realistic or generic devotional faces
- all eyes must carry sacred completion logic, not portrait realism
- all bodies must become stylised iconographic mural bodies
- all gestures must become sacred and narratively legible, not casual or naturalistic
- all ornaments, attendants, flora, fauna, and narrative supports must belong to the same codified mural world
- all space must remain wall-field mural space, not realism-first perspective space
- all shadows must remain subordinate to contour and color law
- no important element may remain in another image language

FACE RULE:

Use stylised sacred faces with iconographic control. Faces must feel temple-mural-born, not portrait-painted.

EYE RULE:

The eyes must feel like the final seat of sacred presence and bhava. They must not be treated as ordinary facial details.

FIGURE RULE:

Use codified divine and mythological body logic. Do not use realism anatomy, cinematic posing, or poster-like sentimentality.

LINE RULE:

Build the image through deliberate contour first. Outline must structure the figure and image field before color logic dominates.

SPACE RULE:

Use sacred mural wall space. Depth may exist, but it must remain subordinate to wall-bound composition and iconographic hierarchy.

COLOR RULE:

Use Pancha Varna: ochre yellow, red, green, white, and black. Treat color as a rule-bound sacred system, not as free palette styling or gradient mood painting.

MATERIAL RULE:

Let the image feel like mural painting on prepared sacred wall surfaces using natural pigment memory, not canvas painting or glossy illustration.

NARRATIVE RULE:

The mural must feel like a puranic or epic sacred image-field, or a deity-centered temple mural governed by iconographic order.

NEGATIVE RULE:

- no generic mythological wall art
- no poster-style devotional painting
- no realism-first figures
- no decorative "Indian mural" look
- no free-palette coloring
- no cinematic perspective takeover
- no texture transfer only
- no outline overlay on a generic painting
- no temple-wall backdrop behind non-Kerala figures

OUTPUT GOAL:

The final result must feel like a true Kerala mural where figure, eye, contour, color, iconography, wall-space, and sacred presence are all rebuilt from the base upward.

Reusable Variable Template

Create [SUBJECT / SCENE / SACRED NARRATIVE MOMENT] in the authentic visual logic of Kerala mural painting.

STYLE SYSTEM:

sacred temple-and-palace mural, codified divine figure grammar,

outline-first construction,
Pancha Varna color law,
puranic / epic narrative image-field, wall-bound sacred composition, eye-completion logic of bhava.

WHOLE-FRAME RULE:

Rebuild everything through Kerala mural logic:

- [MAIN FIGURE] becomes a codified Kerala-mural deity or sacred figure
- [SECONDARY FIGURES] become supporting Kerala-mural figures
- [FACES] become stylised iconographic faces
- [EYES] become sacred-presence eyes, not portrait eyes
- [GESTURES] become ritual and narrative gestures
- [ORNAMENTS / ATTENDANTS / ANIMALS / FLORA] become mural-world support forms
- [BACKGROUND / WALL FIELD / NARRATIVE ZONES] become Kerala mural sacred space
- [COLOR] remains governed by Pancha Varna
- [SHADOW / DEPTH] remains subordinate to contour and color law

KEEP:

codified sacred figure logic
eye-completion logic
outline-led construction
Pancha Varna discipline
wall-bound mural identity
iconographic hierarchy

AVOID:

generic religious painting surface resemblance only realistic anatomy
free-palette mythological art poster sentimentality temple backdrop behind non-mural figures

Image-to-Image

Convert this source image into the authentic visual logic of Kerala mural painting.

Preserve the source image's core sacred or narrative hierarchy, main action, and symbolic center, but rebuild the full image through:

- codified divine figure construction
- stylised sacred faces
- eye-completion logic of presence and bhava
- outline-first image building
- Pancha Varna color structure

- wall-bound mural composition
- iconographic hierarchy stronger than realism

Translate the entire frame:

- faces into Kerala-mural sacred faces
- eyes into ritual-completion eyes
- bodies into stylised iconographic bodies
- gestures into sacred mural gestures
- ornament and narrative supports into Kerala mural vocabulary
- space into wall-bound sacred field
- colors into Pancha Varna order
- shadows into contour-supporting tonal restraint

Do not simply recolor the image.

Do not only add outline.

Do not place a generic mythological figure on an old wall.

Do not keep realism underneath.

The final result must feel like the source image was rebuilt from scratch as a true Kerala mural image-field.

V2 — Artisan Translation

Create the image in an authentic handcrafted dimensional translation of Kerala mural painting, where the full Kerala mural grammar remains primary but the sacred wall world becomes richer in mural-body presence, contour authority, iconographic weight, wall tactility, and controlled sacred depth.

Do not treat this as a richer mythological illustration or realism scene with mural styling. Do not use texture transfer. Rebuild the image so the Kerala mural system itself generates the dimensional sacred world.

Keep the full source grammar active:

- codified sacred figure construction
- eye-completion logic
- outline-first image building
- Pancha Varna color law
- wall-bound mural identity
- iconographic hierarchy
- puranic / epic sacred narrative logic

WHOLE-FRAME RULE:

Everything must still belong to one Kerala-mural-built world.

- figures must gain presence but remain mural-constructed, not realism-constructed
- faces must remain iconographically controlled
- eyes must remain sacred-presence eyes
- bodies must remain stylised and codified
- wall-space must become richer but stay mural-space, not scene-space
- color must stay rule-bound under Pancha Varna
- shadow must remain contour-supporting and subordinate
- no important element may default to realism

ALLOW THESE TO BECOME RICHER:

- wall tactility
- figure-body weight
- contour clarity
- sacred compositional depth
- iconographic emphasis
- mural coherence
- color-field density

SPACE RULE:

Use dimensional mural space, not realism-first perspective or cinematic staging. Depth is allowed, but it must remain sacred wall-field depth.

SHADOW RULE:

Use tonal support only where it serves figure clarity and iconographic hierarchy. No realism-light takeover.

NEGATIVE RULE:

- no realism mythological illustration
- no decorative temple art
- no generic mural texture enhancement
- no free-palette adaptation
- no realism faces under mural styling
- no cinematic composition stronger than mural order

OUTPUT GOAL:

The final result must feel like Kerala mural painting has expanded into a richer handcrafted sacred mural world while keeping full control over figure grammar, eye logic, contour, Pancha Varna, and wall-bound iconographic order.

Reusable Variable Template

Create [SUBJECT / SCENE / SACRED NARRATIVE MOMENT] as an authentic handcrafted dimensional translation of Kerala mural painting.

STYLE SYSTEM:

codified sacred mural figures,
eye-completion logic,
outline-first construction,
Pancha Varna discipline,
wall-bound sacred image field,
iconographic hierarchy,
puranic / epic mural logic.

WHOLE-FRAME RULE:

- [MAIN FIGURE] becomes a dimensional but still Kerala-mural-built sacred figure
- [SECONDARY FIGURES] become supporting codified mural figures
- [FACES] remain iconographically controlled
- [EYES] remain sacred completion centers
- [GESTURES] remain ritual and narrative
- [ORNAMENTS / ATTENDANTS / SUPPORT FORMS] remain mural-constructed
- [WALL SPACE / BACKGROUND FIELD] becomes richer but stays sacred mural space
- [COLOR] remains under Pancha Varna law
- [SHADOW] remains subordinate to contour and mural order

ALLOW:

more wall tactility more figure presence more contour authority more sacred compositional depth more mural coherence

KEEP:

codified sacred figure logic
eye logic
Pancha Varna
wall-bound identity
iconographic order
Kerala mural reading

AVOID:

realism underneath poster mythological look decorative wall-art styling free-palette color cinematic scene-space surface-only transfer

Image-to-Image

Convert this source image into an authentic handcrafted dimensional Kerala mural world.

Keep the source image's core sacred hierarchy, main narrative action, and symbolic center, but rebuild the entire frame through:

- codified Kerala-mural faces and figures
- sacred eye-completion logic
- outline-first image construction
- Pancha Varna color discipline
- wall-bound sacred space
- iconographic hierarchy
- contour-led tonal support

Translate the whole frame so that:

- faces become Kerala mural faces
- eyes become sacred-presence eyes
- bodies become stylised mural bodies
- gestures become codified sacred gestures
- space becomes mural wall-field depth
- colors become Pancha Varna structure
- shadows become contour-supporting tonal restraint

Do not simply deepen wall texture.

Do not just brighten the colors.

Do not keep realistic figures underneath.

The final result must feel like the source image was rebuilt as a dimensional Kerala mural image-field from the base structure upward.

V3 — 3D / Realistic / Cinematic Translation

Universal Hard Prompt

Create a fully volumetric cinematic sacred world generated by Kerala mural painting logic, where the whole reality feels born from codified divine figure construction, sacred eye logic, outline-led image building, Pancha Varna, iconographic hierarchy, and temple-wall mural intelligence rather than merely decorated by mural-style surface cues.

Do not assume prior knowledge of the style. The core system is this:

Kerala mural painting is a sacred temple-and-palace mural tradition governed by stylised codified figures, Pancha Varna color law, natural-pigment mural memory, puranic and epic narrative order, and ritual completion through the final painting of the eyes.

This version must not become:

- generic mythological fantasy realism
- decorative Indian mural styling
- devotional poster realism
- realism-first figures with mural colors
- old-wall texture behind non-mural figures

Instead, let the entire world be generated by Kerala mural intelligence.

WHOLE-FRAME WORLD RULE:

Every visible element must belong to the same Kerala-mural-built sacred world.

- figures must be Kerala-mural-built in face, eye, body, gesture, and sacred hierarchy
- eyes must remain centers of presence and bhava
- contour must still govern image construction
- color must remain under Pancha Varna law
- space must remain sacred wall-field logic translated into world logic
- iconography must remain prescribed and ordered
- shadow must remain subordinate to contour and sacred hierarchy
- no important element may remain realism-first underneath

ORIGIN-SYSTEM MEMORY RULE:

Even in a fully cinematic world, the result must still visibly remember:

- codified sacred figure grammar
- outline-first image construction
- Pancha Varna five-color law
- temple-and-palace mural origin
- iconographic discipline
- ritual completion through the eyes

SPACE RULE:

Allow full sacred world depth, cinematic immersion, and environmental layering, but keep the world generated by Kerala mural logic rather than realism-first cinematic logic.

SHADOW RULE:

Use shadow only insofar as it remains subordinate to contour, color law, and sacred iconographic order. No realism-light takeover.

NEGATIVE RULE:

- no generic fantasy realism
- no devotional poster look
- no decorative wall-art styling
- no free-palette mythological painting
- no realism faces under mural treatment
- no cinematic staging stronger than mural hierarchy
- no surface-only mural resemblance

OUTPUT GOAL:

The final result must feel like Kerala mural painting became an inhabitable sacred world, with full transformation of face, eye, figure, contour, color law, iconography, and mural identity.

Reusable Variable Template

Create [SUBJECT / SACRED WORLD / NARRATIVE MOMENT / DEITY FIELD] as a fully volumetric cinematic world generated by Kerala mural painting logic.

codified sacred figure construction,
eye-completion logic,
outline-first image law,
Pancha Varna,
wall-bound sacred origin,
iconographic hierarchy,
puranic / epic narrative mural logic.

WHOLE-FRAME WORLD RULE:

- [MAIN FIGURE] becomes a Kerala-mural-built volumetric sacred figure
- [SECONDARY FIGURES] become supporting codified mural presences
- [FACES] remain iconographically prescribed
- [EYES] remain sacred centers of completion and bhava
- [GESTURES] remain ritual and narrative
- [ORNAMENT / ATTENDANTS / SUPPORT FORMS] remain mural-constructed
- [SPACE / BACKGROUND FIELD] becomes Kerala-mural world space
- [COLOR] remains under Pancha Varna discipline
- [SHADOW] remains subordinate to contour and iconographic order

INCREASE:

world depth sacred compositional hierarchy figure-ground coherence mural-to-world translation cinematic readability whole-world continuity

DO NOT LOSE:

codified figure grammar
eye logic
outline-first construction
Pancha Varna
wall-bound sacred memory
iconographic discipline

AVOID:

generic realism fantasy poster art decorative mural styling surface transfer only
free-palette mythological art cinematic realism stronger than Kerala mural logic

Image-to-Image

Convert this source image into a fully volumetric cinematic Kerala mural world.

Preserve the source image's core sacred hierarchy, main symbolic center, narrative action, and readable structure, but rebuild the entire frame through:

- codified Kerala-mural faces and figures
- sacred eye-completion logic
- outline-first image construction
- Pancha Varna color law
- iconographic hierarchy
- wall-bound sacred memory translated into world logic
- shadow subordinate to contour and sacred order

Translate the whole frame:

- faces into Kerala-mural faces
- eyes into sacred-presence eyes
- bodies into codified mural bodies
- gestures into ritual mural gestures
- space into Kerala-mural sacred world-space
- color into Pancha Varna structure
- shadow into contour-supporting sacred restraint
- overall hierarchy into mural-born iconographic order

Do not simply apply a mural filter.

Do not just recolor the scene.

Do not keep realism figures underneath.

Do not place mural surface cues onto a generic mythological world.

The final result must feel like the source image was rebuilt into an inhabitable Kerala mural world from the base structure upward.
