

Mysore Painting - Karnataka

V1 — Authentic Style

Universal Hard Prompt

Create an image in the authentic source-faithful visual logic of Mysore Painting from Karnataka, a courtly devotional painting tradition associated with the Mysore / Wodeyar lineage. Treat this as a sacred panel-painting system, not as folk mural art, not as generic South Indian miniature painting, not as decorative gold-surface art, and not as heavy embossed Tanjore-style painting.

Build the image around a calm sacred figure or sacred mythological composition. The figure must remain the primary carrier of the image. The painting should feel devotional, composed, reverent, and court-refined. Use delicate and disciplined linework to define the face, body, garments, jewelry, ornaments, halo, and framing details. The line must feel fine, controlled, elegant, and highly intentional.

Use the true Mysore material logic:

- low raised gesso detail, not heavy embossing
- gold leaf / gold foil emphasis in selected sacred areas
- restrained layered color
- polished artisanal finish
- soft, rich glow rather than loud shine

The raised details should be subtle and intricate. Gold should enhance sacred importance in jewelry, halo, crown, ornaments, arches, borders, or sacred framing details, but must not swallow the whole image. The palette must remain muted, balanced, graceful, and courtly, not flashy or over-saturated.

The subject world should come from:

- Hindu gods and goddesses
- mythological or epic scenes
- sacred icon-centered devotional imagery
- serene royal-devotional compositions

The image must feel like a carefully built sacred artwork made through workshop discipline:

- precise sketch foundation
- gesso detailing
- gold emphasis
- layered color
- polished finish

Whole-frame rule: if the image includes figure, border, arch, halo, garments, jewelry, background motifs, and framing elements, all of them must belong to one Mysore Painting grammar. The style must not stop at gold decoration. Figure drawing, line quality, color restraint, low-relief detail, and finish must all become Mysore.

Do not generate:

- generic South Indian devotional art
- bright poster-like religious illustration
- heavy embossed gold painting
- folk mural language
- loud luxury religious art
- decorative Indian art with gold but no Mysore refinement
- Tanjore-like bulky relief

The final image must feel like a true Mysore Painting: courtly devotional calm, sacred figure centrality, refined linework, muted elegance, low-relief gesso, selective gold leaf, and polished sacred finish.

Reusable Variable Template

Create [SUBJECT / DEITY / SCENE] in the authentic source-faithful visual logic of Mysore Painting from Karnataka, treating it as a courtly devotional sacred panel-painting system.

Core style system to preserve:

- courtly devotional identity
- sacred figure centrality
- refined line discipline
- low-relief gesso detailing
- selective gold leaf emphasis
- muted and balanced color harmony
- polished artisanal finish
- sacred panel composition rather than mural spread

Translate the image like this:

- [MAIN FIGURE / SUBJECT] becomes a calm sacred Mysore figure with refined linework
- [ORNAMENT / JEWELRY / HALO / ARCH] becomes delicately raised and gold-emphasized, never bulky
- [COLOR SYSTEM] becomes restrained, elegant, layered, and balanced
- [BORDER / FRAME / SUPPORTING ELEMENTS] become courtly and devotional, not decorative overload
- [BACKGROUND / SECONDARY FORMS] remain subordinate to figure clarity

- [FULL FRAME] must read as one Mysore sacred painting world

Keep:

- figure first
- line first
- restraint first
- sacred calm
- gold as selective emphasis
- low relief, not heavy embossing
- polished finish

Avoid:

- generic devotional art
- poster style
- heavy Tanjore-like relief
- folk mural behavior
- bright theatrical color
- decorative gold overload

Image-to-Image

Convert this source image into the authentic source-faithful visual logic of Mysore Painting from Karnataka.

Preserve the source image's main subject count, figure arrangement, and basic devotional readability, but rebuild the entire image through refined sacred figure drawing, low-relief gesso detailing, selective gold leaf emphasis, layered restrained color, and polished artisanal finish. Replace any generic illustration, folk painting, loud gold decoration, or heavy embossed religious art with a true Mysore Painting system.

If the source image contains sacred figures, rebuild them with calm courtly devotion and refined contour discipline. If it contains ornaments, crowns, jewelry, arches, or borders, rebuild them with subtle gesso and gold emphasis rather than bulky decoration. If it contains color, rebuild it with muted elegance and layered harmony. If it contains a background, make that background support sacred hierarchy rather than compete with the figure.

Do not simply add gold to the source image. Do not keep another devotional-art logic underneath. Rebuild the full painting so figure, line, ornament, gold, color, and finish all become one authentic Mysore Painting system.

V2 — Artisan Translation

Universal Hard Prompt

Create a creative 2D + 3D translation of Mysore Painting from Karnataka. This is not generic “Indian traditional luxury art,” not texture transfer, and not simply placing gold and muted color around a deity. It should feel like the full courtly devotional Mysore grammar has begun to reorganize the image more powerfully while still remaining unmistakably Mysore.

Let the sacred figure become more compositionally commanding. Let linework become more structurally active. Let low-relief gesso and gold detailing shape the composition more clearly. Let borders, arches, halos, jewelry, and sacred framing become more integrated into the visual architecture. Let the entire image feel reauthored through refined line, sacred hierarchy, restrained gold, muted palette, and devotional stillness.

This version must transform more than surface. Change:

- the figure logic so sacred presence becomes more compositionally forceful
- the line system so contours, ornaments, drapery, and sacred framing become more architecturally integrated
- the relief-and-gold system so low raised details become more visually structuring without becoming heavy
- the color body so muted elegance becomes richer while staying restrained
- the panel organization so every element supports Mysore devotional hierarchy
- the finish logic so the image feels crafted and refined, not merely decorated

Keep the source truth intact:

- figure remains primary
- line remains delicate and disciplined
- gold remains selective
- relief remains subtle
- palette remains balanced
- the mood remains calm, sacred, and courtly
- the style must remain distinct from Tanjore-like heavy embossing

Do not generate:

- generic premium devotional art
- bright religious poster aesthetics
- decorative Indian luxury styling
- heavy raised gold mass
- generic miniature painting
- folk or mural spread behavior

The final result must feel like Mysore Painting’s courtly devotional grammar has reauthored the image through sacred figure discipline, line refinement, restrained gold, low relief, and polished compositional grace.

Reusable Variable Template

Create [SUBJECT / DEITY / SCENE] as a creative 2D + 3D translation of Mysore Painting from Karnataka.

Preserve these style-core rules:

- courtly devotional identity remains primary
- sacred figure remains central
- line refinement remains stronger than decorative mass
- gold remains selective and sacred
- relief remains low and intricate
- palette remains muted and balanced
- the full image must be rebuilt through Mysore painting logic

Translate the image like this:

- [MAIN FIGURE / SUBJECT] becomes more structurally commanding while staying calm and sacred
- [ORNAMENT / HALO / CROWN / JEWELRY / FRAME] becomes more compositionally integrated through low-relief gold detail
- [LINE / DRAPERY / FACIAL SYSTEM] becomes more visually authored while staying delicate
- [COLOR BODY] becomes richer but still restrained and devotional
- [BACKGROUND / BORDER / ARCH / SECONDARY FORMS] become more unified under sacred hierarchy
- [FULL FRAME] must feel reauthored by Mysore panel logic, not decorated afterward

Mandatory transformation rule:

Do not transfer only gold, texture, or palette.

Also transform:

- figure hierarchy
- line rhythm
- relief placement
- compositional structure
- sacred stillness
- panel organization
- full artisanal finish logic

Let these become richer:

- line cadence
- sacred compositional control
- gold-detail integration
- low-relief finesse

- muted color harmony
- devotional atmosphere

Keep unchanged:

- restraint first
- Mysore not Tanjore
- sacred calm
- polished courtly finish
- whole-frame coherence

Avoid:

- gold-heavy luxury art
- poster-like devotion
- decorative Indian nostalgia styling
- heavy embossing
- generic miniature logic
- folk mural drift

Image-to-Image

Preserve the source image's main subject count, figure arrangement, and overall readability, but rebuild the full image through courtly devotional hierarchy, refined sacred linework, low-relief gesso detail, selective gold leaf emphasis, layered restrained color, and polished finish. Let the image become more compositionally transformed than a literal panel reference while staying fully rooted in Mysore grammar.

Rebuild the figure so it becomes the compositional center. Rebuild ornaments so they become subtle raised gold systems. Rebuild borders, arches, garments, halos, and frames so they integrate into one sacred panel architecture. Rebuild color so it behaves like layered muted elegance rather than generic traditional color. Rebuild the finish so the full image feels workshop-crafted.

Do not just add gold and soft colors to the existing image. Do not keep another devotional-art logic underneath. Rebuild the full painting so figure, line, relief, gold, color, and finish all become one Mysore Painting system.

V3 — 3D / Realistic / Cinematic Translation

Universal Hard Prompt

Create a full 3D realistic dimensional world generated from Mysore Painting from Karnataka. This is not a realistic religious image with gold added later. It is a believable world in which courtly devotional sacred figuration, delicate line discipline, low-relief gesso detail, selective gold leaf emphasis, layered restrained color, and polished artisanal finish govern every visible element.

Translate the full style-system into reality. Every part of the frame must adapt:

- sacred figures must behave like real Mysore figures, calm, idealized, and refined
- line must remain visible as a structuring force even in realism
- raised detail must behave like true low gesso work, not bulky embossed mass
- gold must behave like sacred emphasis with soft glow, not flashy luxury shine
- color must behave like restrained layered devotional harmony
- borders, arches, halos, jewelry, garments, and framing systems must belong to one courtly sacred panel world
- finish must feel polished, crafted, and resolved

This version must not stop at realistic texture. It must rebuild:

- figure hierarchy so sacred subject remains primary
- line-and-form logic so refinement survives dimensional realism
- relief-and-gold behavior so material truth stays subtle and Mysore-specific
- color logic so balance and muted elegance remain active
- panel architecture so framing systems stay integrated
- surface finish so the whole work feels workshop-crafted rather than generic realism

If the image contains divine or mythological figures, they must remain composed and devotional rather than dramatic or theatrical. If it contains ornaments and sacred detail, these must remain structurally integrated and restrained. The final work must still feel like a Mysore sacred panel, not luxury realism.

Do not generate:

- generic realistic devotional art
- realistic Indian poster aesthetics
- heavy gold luxury religious painting
- Tanjore-like bulky relief
- over-saturated traditional realism
- decorative sacred illustration with no Mysore line-gesso-gold coherence

The final image must feel like a real Mysore Painting world where sacred figure, delicate line, low-relief gold detail, restrained color, and polished devotional finish have become materially and spatially believable reality.

Reusable Variable Template

Create [SUBJECT / DEITY / SCENE] as a full 3D realistic dimensional world generated from Mysore Painting from Karnataka.

Style system that must remain unchanged:

- courtly devotional identity remains primary
- sacred figure remains central
- delicate line discipline remains active
- low-relief gesso remains subtle and intricate
- gold remains selective and sacred
- muted elegance remains intact
- polished artisanal finish remains visible
- the entire frame must be rebuilt through one Mysore sacred-panel grammar

Translate the image like this:

- [MAIN FIGURE / SUBJECT] becomes a believable sacred Mysore figure with calm refined presence
- [ORNAMENT / HALO / CROWN / JEWELRY / FRAME] becomes materially real but low-relief and gold-disciplined
- [LINE / DRAPERY / FACIAL SYSTEM] becomes physically convincing without losing finesse
- [COLOR BODY] becomes layered, restrained, and devotional
- [BACKGROUND / ARCH / BORDER / SECONDARY FORMS] become a coherent sacred panel environment
- [FULL FINISH] becomes polished and workshop-crafted rather than generic realism

Increase:

- material tactility
- figure refinement
- low-relief truth
- soft gold glow
- color harmony
- polished finish

Do not lose:

- figure first
- line first
- restraint first
- Mysore not Tanjore
- sacred calm
- whole-image coherence

Avoid:

- generic devotional realism
- bright poster style
- flashy religious luxury art
- heavy embossed surfaces
- decorative Indian painting with no Mysore grammar

Preserve the source image's main subject count, figure arrangement, and readable devotional structure, but rebuild every visible element through refined sacred figure drawing, low-relief gesso detail, selective gold leaf emphasis, restrained layered color, and polished artisanal finish. Replace generic devotional illustration, loud traditional realism, decorative gold styling, or heavy embossed painting with a full Mysore Painting system.

Rebuild the figure so it becomes the true sacred center. Rebuild line so it still structures the image even in realism. Rebuild gold and raised details so they feel subtle, intricate, and Mysore-specific. Rebuild color so it behaves like muted elegance rather than spectacle. Rebuild border, frame, arch, and supporting elements so they belong to one courtly sacred panel. Rebuild the surface finish so the full image feels crafted and polished.
