

Gond - Madhya Pradesh

V1 — Authentic Style

Universal Hard Prompt

Create the image in the authentic visual logic of Gond painting from Madhya Pradesh, more precisely the Patangarh / Pardhan Gond painting lineage associated with Jangarh Singh Shyam and the later stream often called Jangarh Kalam.

Do not treat this as generic tribal art, decorative folk patterning, patterned animal illustration, or realism creatures with “tribal” fill. Rebuild the entire image as a true Gond-built image-world.

The image must read first as:

- a living being or life-bearing form from the Gond / Pardhan world
- myth-and-nature-rooted imagery
- internal activation through repeated dots, lines, dashes, scales, seed-like marks, or related rhythmic pattern systems
- movement and inner life created from within the body
- sacred / folkloric / ecological image logic
- Patangarh / Pardhan Gond painting identity

WHOLE-FRAME RULE:

Every visible element must belong to the same Gond-built world.

- the main figure must be a true Gond-built being: animal, bird, fish, snake, tree, deity, spirit-form, or related life-form
- the figure must be readable before the internal pattern activates it
- the internal dots and lines must build the body from within, not sit on top as decoration
- the marks must create rhythm, pulse, and movement
- the surrounding forms, trees, background, and secondary beings must belong to the same Gond image language
- no important element may remain in realism illustration logic underneath

FORM RULE:

Use a strong, readable living silhouette. The creature or tree must feel alive, species-conscious, and mythically charged, not generic.

MARK RULE:

Use repeated yet varying internal marks: dots, fine lines, curves, dashes, seed-like units, scale-like units, or related Gond rhythm structures. These marks must activate the form from within.

RHYTHM RULE:

The painting must feel musically alive. Repetition must create movement, not wallpaper.

WORLD RULE:

The image should carry Gond / Pardhan ecological imagination: forests, animals, trees, birds, deities, spirits, myths, rituals, or daily-life presences.

COLOR RULE:

Use vivid painted color as part of the image-building logic, but keep color subordinate to form and internal rhythmic activation.

NEGATIVE RULE:

no generic tribal décor no decorative patterned animal no realism wildlife art with folk fill no abstract pattern detached from a living form no surface-only dots and lines no poster-like folk simplification no generic “ethnic art” look

OUTPUT GOAL:

The final result must feel like a true Patangarh / Pardhan Gond painting where living form, inner rhythm, mythic-nature logic, and whole-frame identity are all rebuilt from the base upward.

Reusable Variable Template

Create [SUBJECT / BEING / TREE / SACRED CREATURE / NARRATIVE MOMENT] in the authentic visual logic of Gond painting from Madhya Pradesh, specifically the Patangarh / Pardhan Gond lineage.

STYLE SYSTEM:

living-form-centered image logic,
Patangarh / Pardhan Gond world, internal rhythmic activation through dots and lines,
myth / nature / sacred ecological imagination, Jangarh-Kalam-style movement from repeated marks,

WHOLE-FRAME RULE:

Rebuild everything through Gond logic:

- [MAIN FIGURE] becomes a Gond-built living form
- [SECONDARY FIGURES / TREES / BIRDS / CREATURES] become supporting Gond-world beings
- [BODY SURFACES] become internally activated through rhythmic marks
- [BACKGROUND / FIELD] becomes part of the same living image ecology
- [MOVEMENT / ENERGY] comes from repeated yet varying internal mark systems
- [OVERALL COMPOSITION] remains being-centered and Gond-built

KEEP:

strong readable silhouette
living-form priority internal dot-line rhythm
mythic / sacred / ecological charge
Patangarh / Pardhan Gond reading
whole-frame unity

AVOID:

generic tribal styling animal illustration with decorative fill realism figure under Gond pattern abstract pattern detached from life-form wallpaper-like repetition surface resemblance only

Image-to-Image

Convert this source image into the authentic visual logic of Gond painting from Madhya Pradesh, specifically the Patangarh / Pardhan Gond lineage.

Preserve the source image's core being, main subject hierarchy, symbolic center, and readable action, but rebuild the full image through:

- Gond-built living-form logic
- internal rhythmic activation through dots, lines, dashes, scales, and related marks
- myth-and-nature-rooted image logic
- strong readable silhouette
- whole-frame Gond ecology
- movement created by repeated yet varying internal pattern systems

Translate the entire frame:

- the main figure into a true Gond-built being
- all body surfaces into internally activated rhythmic fields
- surrounding forms into the same Gond-world language
- color into vivid but form-supporting painted logic
- the background into a living ecological field, not a neutral illustration backdrop

Do not simply add dots and lines on top.

Do not decorate a realistic animal or tree.

Do not keep generic illustration logic underneath.

Do not turn it into generic tribal décor.

The final result must feel like the source image was rebuilt from scratch as a true Gond painting image-world.

V2 — Artisan Translation

Universal Hard Prompt

Create the image in an authentic handcrafted dimensional translation of Gond painting from Madhya Pradesh, specifically the Patangarh / Pardhan Gond lineage, where the full Gond grammar remains primary but the image world becomes richer in body-presence, surface density, internal rhythm, and living-form tactility.

Do not treat this as a richer decorative illustration, a realism painting with Gond patterning, or surface enhancement. Rebuild the image so the Gond system itself generates the dimensional painting world.

Keep the full source grammar active:

- living-form-centered image logic
- Patangarh / Pardhan Gond identity
- internal rhythmic activation through dots and lines
- myth / nature / sacred ecological world
- movement created by repeated marks
- being-first composition

WHOLE-FRAME RULE:

Everything must still belong to one Gond-built world.

- the main being must gain presence but remain Gond-constructed, not realism-constructed
- internal marks must gain density and tactile force but remain body-building, not decorative
- secondary beings, trees, or field forms must remain part of the same Gond ecology
- movement must still come from mark repetition and variation
- the image must remain being-first and rhythm-first, not texture-first
- no important element may default to generic illustration logic

FORM RULE:

Keep strong, species-conscious, myth-bearing silhouettes. The form must stay alive and primary.

MARK RULE:

Let internal marks become richer and more tactile, but still structurally tied to the body.

RHYTHM RULE:

The painting must feel musically alive. Density may increase, but the image must not become dead or overfilled.

SPACE RULE:

Allow richer field depth and internal layering, but keep the image within a Gond painting ecology, not realism scene space.

NEGATIVE RULE:

no decorative high-detail animal illustration no realism under tribal fill no pattern wallpaper effect no generic folk-art richness no surface-only enhancement no fantasy realism with Gond marks

OUTPUT GOAL:

The final result must feel like Gond painting has expanded into a richer handcrafted dimensional image-world while keeping full control over living form, inner rhythm, and whole-frame Gond identity.

Reusable Variable Template

Create [SUBJECT / BEING / TREE / SACRED CREATURE / NARRATIVE MOMENT] as an authentic handcrafted dimensional translation of Gond painting from Madhya Pradesh.

STYLE SYSTEM:

living-form-centered Gond image logic,
Patangarh / Pardhan Gond reading, internal rhythmic dots and lines,
myth / nature / sacred ecological world,
movement through repeated marks,
being-first composition.

WHOLE-FRAME RULE:

- [MAIN FIGURE] becomes a dimensional but still Gond-built being
- [SECONDARY FIGURES / TREES / CREATURES] become supporting Gond-world presences
- [BODY SURFACES] become richer rhythmic fields without losing structural meaning
- [FIELD / BACKGROUND] becomes richer but remains Gond ecology
- [MOVEMENT / ENERGY] remains mark-generated
- [OVERALL IMAGE] remains Gond-built, not generic illustration

ALLOW:

more body presence more surface density more rhythmic richness more ecological coherence more tactile figure-world presence

KEEP:

strong living silhouette internal mark logic
mythic / sacred / ecological charge
Patangarh / Pardhan identity

whole-frame unity
movement from repeated marks

AVOID:

realism underneath decorative animal illustration generic tribal richness texture-only enhancement fantasy realism surface resemblance only

Image-to-Image

Convert this source image into an authentic handcrafted dimensional Gond painting world from Madhya Pradesh, specifically the Patangarh / Pardhan Gond lineage.

Keep the source image's core being, symbolic center, main action, and readable hierarchy, but rebuild the full image through:

- Gond-built living-form construction
- denser internal rhythmic activation through dots and lines
- stronger body-presence without realism takeover
- myth-and-nature-rooted image logic
- whole-frame Gond ecology
- movement through repeated mark variation

Translate the whole frame so that:

- the main subject becomes a true Gond-built being
- the body gains internal density while remaining mark-built
- secondary forms join the same ecological language
- the field becomes Gond-world space, not neutral illustration backdrop
- color remains vivid but subservient to form and rhythm
- the whole image reads as Gond-built, not embellished illustration

Do not simply add more texture.

Do not deepen a normal animal image with pattern.

Do not keep generic illustration logic underneath.

The final result must feel like the source image was rebuilt as a dimensional Gond painting from the base structure upward.

V3 — 3D / Realistic / Cinematic Translation

Universal Hard Prompt

Create a fully volumetric cinematic image-world generated by Gond painting logic from Madhya Pradesh, specifically the Patangarh / Pardhan Gond lineage, where the whole reality feels born from living-form construction, internal rhythmic dots and lines, mythic-nature-rooted imagination, and Gond ecological world logic rather than merely decorated by “tribal” surface cues.

Do not assume prior knowledge of the style. The core system is this:

Gond painting from Madhya Pradesh, especially the Patangarh / Pardhan lineage associated with Jangarh Singh Shyam, builds animals, trees, deities, and other beings through repeated dots, lines, and internal mark systems that create movement and inner life.

This version must not become:

- generic fantasy realism
- wildlife realism with Gond pattern
- decorative tribal animal art
- realism-first figures with folk fill
- surface-only patterned styling

Instead, let the entire world be generated by Gond image intelligence.

WHOLE-FRAME WORLD RULE:

Every visible element must belong to the same Gond-built world.

- the main figure must be Gond-built in silhouette, body, and inner life
- internal marks must still generate movement and vitality
- trees, secondary beings, and field forms must belong to the same ecological image language
- the world must remain mythic, sacred, and nature-rooted
- realism must remain subordinate to Gond form-rhythm logic
- no important element may remain generic illustration or realism underneath

ORIGIN-SYSTEM MEMORY RULE:

Even in a fully cinematic world, the result must still visibly remember:

- Patangarh / Pardhan Gond lineage
- living-form-centered construction
- repeated dots, lines, dashes, scales, and related mark families
- movement created by internal rhythmic variation
- myth / ritual / sacred / ecological imagination
- Gond-built beings rather than realism creatures

FORM RULE:

Keep the being primary. The silhouette and species/world identity must stay readable and Gond-born.

RHYTHM RULE:

Internal rhythm remains a core world-building engine. The marks cannot become optional surface texture.

SPACE RULE:

Allow full world depth and cinematic presence, but keep the world generated by Gond figure-ecology logic rather than realism-first scene design.

NEGATIVE RULE:

no generic fantasy realism no decorative patterned animal art no realism wildlife with tribal fill no abstract pattern detached from beings no surface-only Gond resemblance no cinematic realism stronger than Gond image logic

OUTPUT GOAL:

The final result must feel like Gond painting became an inhabitable image-world, with full transformation of living form, inner rhythm, ecological world logic, and whole-frame identity.

Reusable Variable Template

Create [SUBJECT / BEING / TREE / SACRED CREATURE / MYTHIC WORLD MOMENT]
as a fully volumetric cinematic world generated by Gond painting logic from Madhya Pradesh.

STYLE SYSTEM:

Patangarh / Pardhan Gond image logic,
living-form-centered construction,
internal rhythmic dots and lines,
myth / nature / sacred ecological world,
movement through repeated mark variation,

WHOLE-FRAME WORLD RULE:

- [MAIN FIGURE] becomes a Gond-built volumetric being
- [SECONDARY BEINGS / TREES / FORMS] become part of the same Gond-world ecology
- [BODY SURFACES] remain rhythm-generated from within
- [FIELD / WORLD SPACE] becomes a Gond-built ecological field
- [ENERGY / MOVEMENT] remains mark-generated
- [OVERALL IMAGE] remains governed by Gond logic, not realism logic

INCREASE:

world depth
figure-ground coherence ecological world presence rhythmic density cinematic readability whole-frame continuity

DO NOT LOSE:

living-form priority
Patangarh / Pardhan Gond reading internal mark activation
mythic / sacred / ecological charge
movement from repeated marks
whole-frame Gond identity

AVOID:

generic fantasy realism
patterned wildlife art surface-only tribal styling realism figures with folk fill decorative enhancement without structural change

Image-to-Image

Convert this source image into a fully volumetric cinematic Gond image-world from Madhya Pradesh, specifically the Patangarh / Pardhan Gond lineage.

Preserve the source image's core being, main symbolic center, readable hierarchy, and ecological or narrative focus, but rebuild the full image through:

- Gond-built living-form logic
- internal rhythmic activation through dots and lines
- myth-and-nature-rooted world logic
- movement created from within the body
- whole-frame Gond ecology
- realism kept subordinate to Gond structure

Translate the whole frame:

- the main subject into a true Gond-built being
- all body surfaces into internal rhythmic fields
- surrounding forms into the same Gond ecological language
- the field into a living world, not a scenic backdrop
- color into vivid image-building support, not realism rendering
- the full image into a Gond-built cinematic ecology

Do not simply apply a Gond pattern filter.

Do not decorate a realistic animal or tree.

Do not keep generic fantasy illustration underneath.

The final result must feel like the source image was rebuilt into an inhabitable Gond image-world from the base structure upward.
